CUSTOMER LIMITATIONS [CL] - Limited time for manual campaign and sales-content creation - Large volumes of customer/lead data - Need for affordable and efficient AI assistance - Dependence on internet connectivity and an AI API - Basic requirements: computer, browser, Python/Flask environment for deployment
3. AVAILABLE SOLUTIONS – PROS & CONS [AS] Existing manual workflows: flexible but time-consuming and difficult to scale. Separate marketing/sales tools: useful for individual tasks but fragmented. Generic AI tools: fast content generation but may require repeated prompting and lack project-specific history/workflow. MarketAI opportunity: one platform combining campaigns, sales pitches, lead scoring, segmentation, recommendations and history.	4. PROBLEMS / PAINS – ITS FREQUENCY [PR] - Repeated campaign planning and content creation - Frequent preparation of sales pitches and objection handling - Recurring lead review and prioritization when many leads arrive - Repeated analysis of customer information across campaigns - Repeated generation of previously created strategies when history is unavailable
5. PROBLEM ROOT / CAUSE [RC] - Marketing and sales activities require significant manual effort. - Customer and lead data is large and complex. - Data must be converted into personalized content and actionable insights. - Lack of a single intelligent platform connecting campaign creation, sales assistance, lead analysis and historical reuse.	6. BEHAVIOR – ITS INTENSITY [BE] Users manually collect product/customer information, analyze leads, prepare campaigns and sales content, and prioritize prospects. The intensity increases when campaigns are frequent, sales teams need customized pitches, or hundreds of leads must be reviewed.
7. TRIGGERS TO ACT [TR] - Launching a new product or campaign - Preparing for an important customer pitch - Receiving hundreds of leads from campaigns - Need to identify high-priority prospects quickly - Need to reuse or update a previous strategy without another AI request	8. YOUR SOLUTION [SL] MarketAI Suite – a Generative AI-powered sales and marketing intelligence platform using Flask and Groq's LLaMA 3.3 70B. It provides: - AI campaign generation - AI sales pitch generation - Lead scoring and prioritization - Customer segmentation - Marketing recommendations - Persistent history and reuse - Dashboard and reports
9. CHANNELS OF BEHAVIOR [CH] Online: responsive web application, dashboard, REST APIs, CSV lead upload, AI-generated content and history. Offline / organizational: sales meetings, campaign planning discussions, customer engagement activities and business development follow-ups where outputs are used.	10. EMOTIONS BEFORE / AFTER [EM] Before: overwhelmed, time-consuming manual work, difficulty prioritizing leads, less confidence in reaching the right customers. After: faster decision-making, organized insights, personalized content, clearer lead priorities and greater confidence in sales and marketing actions.

Problem-Solution Fit Summary: MarketAI Suite directly connects the major pains of marketing and sales teams—manual effort, complex lead/customer data, repetitive content creation and difficulty reusing previous work—to a single AI-powered workflow for campaign generation, sales enablement, lead prioritization, segmentation, recommendations and history management.
